On the Town

Think all pranks have to be played at home? Think again! No one will expect your sneaky surprises at the park or library.

CAUTION CAUTION CAUTION CAUTION

The Prankster's Guide

Playing pranks should not get you grounded for life! Follow this guide to keep your pranks safe and fun.

1. The Target

Choose someone who enjoys pranks.

2. Nice Is Best

The best pranks aren't embarrassing.

3. Keep It Clean

Making fake vomit is fun. Leaving a mess for someone else to clean up is not!

4. Safety First

Could your prank hurt a person, animal, or property? If so, choose a new prank.

Chapter 2

Park Pranks

Secretly place a sign that says “Wet Paint” on a park bench. Then act like you’re going to sit on the “wet” bench. Will your friends stop you? Or will they let you ruin your pants?

Moldy Oldie

Add a special ingredient to your next picnic. Make your bread look moldy by using green food coloring. Offer your friend a bite. Then wait for the squirring to begin!

Pool Invader

The pool becomes a toilet with this prank. First, cut a brown sponge into small balls. Release the balls into the water. Then shout, "Someone pooped in the pool!" Watch everyone try to escape.

In France, April Fools' Day is called April Fish. Kids try to tape paper fish to each other's backs.
